THE REAL LIFE

Of Joy And Success Experienced By Mr. And Mrs. Zeno Hendrick of Clover Creek.

Mr. Zeno Hendrick, one of the substantial and successful farmers of Clover Creek neighborhood, made his annual trip to Louisville Monday to sell his tobacco. He was accompanied by his youngest son, Mr. Hendrick, assistant cashier of the Farmers Bank at Hardinsburg.

Mr. Hendrick is in his seventy-sixth year and has been a hard worker since boyhood. He told the News that he hadn't missed twenty meals from sickness in his whole life and up to this time he has made a hand in the field and put in his usual hours of work. This year he will lay off to take things easier and let the boys try their strength.

In speaking of the high price of hogs at this time, he said way back in the sixties he drove a good bunch of hogs to Cloverport and sold them to West & Walter for eleven cents. He says farming is not what it used to be on account of the scarcity of labor and the price paid to hands.

Mr. Hendrick is enjoying fine health for his years. His wife is in good health and strong for her years. Ten children have come to them, all of whom are living and doing well and are quite a comfort in their old age.

Brown's Confectionary was given the order for the brick ice cream at the Knights of Phyllisian banquet. It certainly is fine to see men patronize their home concerns.

George Yeakel, eighty-one years of age, is dying at his home in Louisville, Ky. Yeakel is a retired merchant of that city and Brandenburg.

FATAL SHOOTING AT IRVINGTON

Gus Adams Was Shot and Killed By Father-in-Law As Result Of Quarrel.

ADAMS BURIED SUNDAY.

Alonzo Dowell and Gus Adams engaged in an altercation Friday afternoon at their home near Irvington, in which Dowell shot and killed Adams, the bullet taking effect in his abdomen. Adams died immediately. The cause of the quarrel is said to have been the result of a farm which Adams was renting from Dowell.

Dowell was a son-in-law of Dowell, and leaves a wife and one child. Dowell was arrested by Marshall Dave Henry of Irvington. He was taken to Hardinsburg Saturday to await trial. Dowell was well-known in Meade and Breckinridge counties.

The funeral of Adams was held at his old home at Woodland, near the Grove, Sunday. The interment took place in the cemetery there. Adams was about twenty-eight years of age.

We thank all our friends and neighbors for the loving kindness shown us during the illness of our baby. We extend our especial thanks to Dr. Simons for his skilled and untiring service.

FARMERS UNION

Met At Harned And Received Bids

For Tobacco-Makes Successful Sale Of Burley.

The selling committee of the Farmers Union met at Harned Monday to receive bids on about 250,000 pounds of dark tobacco pledged to that organization. They had several bids but none were accepted.

This Union made a successful sale of their Burley to Ben Clarkson, most all of which has been delivered, and the best feature about the sale, all were pleased. Mr. Martin, Mr. Clarkson's grader, said he never dealt with more farmers fairer manner than he did the right thing than the graders selected by farmers to look after the grading. He said they had no trouble and no hitch in any of the grades. The graders for the Union were W. G. Lewis and Thos. Mercer.

The members of the Union are all very enthusiastic and are pulling together as one man for better prices and better times for the farmers. Their Union is growing fast.

OBJECTS TO RAG

TIME MUSIC.

Former Elizabethtown Pastor Makes 'Em Sit Up and Take Notice.

Rev. R. T. Brown, who for two years lived in Elizabethtown being the Methodist Conference Evangelist to this section, is evidently making "em sit up and take notice" down at Glasgow, where he is now pastor of the Methodist church. A dispute from that place to a Louisville daily the other day gave the following:

The Rev. R. T. Brown, the new pastor of the Methodist church there, has had his congregation on the dodge ever since coming to Glasgow. He exploded a bomb here some two or three Sundays since, preaching against the euchre clubs, card parties etc. He preached a series of sermons against church members as "treasure givers, and lost, but not least, he made the statement he that he passed the home of one of his in-laws and heard ragtime music. The last statement caused much comment, and there were many guesses as to what particular home he referred to, as the majority of them were guilty.

Mrs. Phelps' Salmon Dish.

1 can of best salmon, 2 creamed potatoes, lump of butter size of a walnut, salt and pepper to taste, beaten egg—two if you have another in the house. Put contents in a baking dish and cook until brown. This is as good as croquettes and lots easier to make.

Mrs. David Phelps.

Jefferson City Correspondence St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Governor Hadley bought a farm, 120 acres, five miles west of Jefferson City today. He will move his family from the Executive Mansion when warm weather sets in to spend the summer. Nothing is sweet music in his ear, he says, than the lowing of the kine, and he is to be pulled off the crackling of Missouri hens as they industriously turn out eggs for the family ladder.

The Governor has two cows, both good milkers, and they will more than supply the family with milk and butter. He has two horses, which will come in handy for plowing. He has eleven dogs, which are expected to keep the rabbits from gnawing the young fruit trees.

State Treasury is Depleted Gov.
Wilson Spent $189,000 Sending Out Toy Soldiers.

A side light on those things responsible for the present depleted condition of the State Treasury has been brought out by the investigation now on, and having to do with the management and conditions of the Kentucky militia. From the testimony of witnesses, it has been developed that the State spent, during the night rider troubles, a total of $189,000 in sending State troops to first one place and then another, and in many instances without any request having been made to the Governor to send troops. It has been developed that the bill of o' livery alone, for horses hired to militiamen, and not including feed, was more than $10,000. This is looked upon as rank extravagance on the part of Governor, brought about by his judgment on his part. It is generally conceded that little or no good was accomplished by means of the State militia during the night rider troubles.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work. Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and disability. When kidneys are健全, trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely. When kidneys are weak, organs may need attention, but your kidneys are most important, because they do most work. You should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you cannot easily track your entire body. If one organ is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp Root is great kidney and bladder remedy, it is soon relieved. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in the treatment of the most difficult diseases.

If you are taking a medicine you should have the heat. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a small bottle of mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to take it. You have either or bladder trouble. Mention this when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Evansville, N. Y. They'll mail you a sample, but remember the name, Swamp Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Boled Water in Ancient Times.

Now that the use of boiled drinking water is common, it is well to remember that a similar method of guarding against disease was practiced in ancient times. Herodotus tells how Cyrus had his drinking water boiled and carried in silver vessels, and Pilgrim's elder brother that Native Americans used to boil their water for drinking by placing it in glass flasks surrounded with snow.

LOCAL OPTION ISSUE.

It seems strange to me that the Courier-Journal, in its reference to Maine, Kansas and other prohibition States, very wisely as to the facts from the statement made by the responsible officers of these States.

Mr. Coburn, Secretary of the Kansas State Board, in a report to a Kansas society in Chicago, refers to twenty-eight counties with no poor farm tenants, eighty-seven with no insane inmates, twenty-one counties with no convicts in the penitentiary, thirty-six with no prisoners in the reformatory, fifty-two with no prisoners serving sentence in jail.

No city in Illinois has done more in the building line or had better business than Decatur in the last two years. We are unable to get competent labor or to work on the work here. Arrests for drunks here since saloons were voted out fell from 681 in the eight months of 1907 to 317 in 1908 and 447 in 1910. Since the Mayor of the city got the chief of police to do his duty, the saloons closed and sixty-five soft drink shops that openly sold booze of any description, up to one month ago. It seems so strange to me that I never see in the Courier-Journal any word of praise for the good effects of the no saloon in these places.

You know as I know that no man is able to handle any kind of business tucked up on booze. Why is it that the Courier-Journal constantly says in this local option question it is being agitated by cranks and religious fanatics. You know, and as any observing and thinking man knows, that it is the law-abiding and intelligent citizens of Kentucky that have put the saloons out of so many counties of the State.

The majority of the intelligent voters of Kentucky want a county unit passed. They elected enough honest men to the Legislature and Senate to pass it if it was in the hands to report it.

Show me any question of this day that can enlist so many good speakers and writer without a cent of compensation. Practically all the work done along this line is gratis, and given by men for his fellowmen.

It is the best of citizenship here and all over the three States I travel that is putting up this fight for this great moral reform. This local option movement may be one of cranks and religious fanatics, but it has not on. It side the gamblers, bootleggers, lawbreakers and the men with no respect for law. Their head is the whisky bunch.

The cranks and religious fanatics are led by those that stand with the Bible in their hand for guide. Where it is not preached there is no civilization and intelligence. You don't find that little book lying around on the saloon table; it is kicked into the gutter, but when it comes to the last words said over the poor body, it is taken from that book, and not words spoken in some old saloon brawl!

CLOVERPORT, KY., WEDNESDAY, FEB. 23, 1910

PLEASE DO THIS.

A special request is made to the people of Cloverport to answer their phones immediately when the bell rings. The telephone service in this city is exasperating and the trouble is not all due to the operators. In the last few weeks there has been an up roar of complaint about the telephone accommodations and the subscribers are greatly to blame, for there are many who take their time in answering their calls and some who do not answer them at all. This makes work hard for the operators at the exchange and certainly most trying to those who must use the telephone for business purposes. Let us be quick to give attention to these daily duties of the office and house-hold.

The Chicago Tribune has just completed a poll of the Republican and Independent editors, west of the Alleghenies, who were asked the following questions: "Is Cannon your choice for the next Speaker?" "Do you endorse the Aldrich-Cannon tariff?" The result of this poll shows that the Republican and Independent newspapers of the middle west are overwhelming opposed to the selection of Joseph G. Cannon as speaker of the next house of representatives. The vote: Republicans for 546 against 2,653, Independents for 31 against 641, totals for 577 against 3,194. They are also opposed to the Aldrich tariff bill. The vote on this was Republicans for 812, against 2,653, Independents for 31 against 541, totals for 899 against 3,483.

The West is tired of Cannonism and Aldrichism. Thousands of Republican and Independent editors say so by their votes.

Louise had an article in The Louisville Times Saturday made up of short stories about the most prominent and gifted Kentucky women engaged in journalism. Photographs were given of Miss Katherine E. Murell, Columbia; Miss Betty L. Hubbard, Hodgenville; Mrs. Mamie Plummett Braughton, Franklin; Mrs. Daisy Fitzhugh Ayers, Lexington; Miss Goldie Perry, Winchester; Mrs. Harry McCarty, Nicholasville; Mrs. Disha Breckenridge, Lexington; and Mrs. Ella Hutchinson Ellwanger, Frankfort. And interesting notes were included about Mrs. Virginia Duncan, Owensboro; Miss Mary B. Bryan, Mrs. Mary Bradley Raily and Miss Katherine Hull Billingsley, Lexington; Mrs. Hattie B. Grinnell, Leitchfield; Miss Lena Rollins, Pineville; Miss Alice Lloyd, of Lexington.

Dave Henry is one of the best auctioneers in three counties. When there's a real big sale and they want good prices for their stuff Dave generally gets the job. He has sold most everything that can be sold in this country and his ambition now is to go West and sell a circus. Mr. Henry says he will never be satisfied until he brings his big stock down on a lion or on an elephant.

Breckenridge county farmers ought to raise more hog and hams this year and quit fooling with so much tobacco. Vic Robertson told us the other day that he used to ship out of this county a car load of stock nearly every day. Now he says he can't get a car load a week. He says the farmers are losing sight of their main point in not raising more hogs, more cattle and more sheep.

From a Republican standpunkt, Senator Bradley has the pie put-ron for Kentucky nailed down. Nothing goes with President Taft without the Senator's endorsement. Many Republican's now holding offices have made frequent trips to Washington with a view of holding their jobs. But if it does not suit Mr. Bradley it's time wasted.

The Democratic Opportunity.

To the Editor of The Sun—Sir: The present political situation in the country emphasizes the urgent need of a strong minority party organization.

Never has there been a better opportunity for the propagation of sound political doctrine and the advancement of proper principles. The party of the majority is weak and vulnerable and should cease to command confidence when its fallacies are exposed. The corruptions of various kinds with which it is weighed should shortly have an effect; but where can the country repose confidence?

Mrs. Sherman Dead

Mrs. Katherine Sherman, mother of E. H. Sherman, of Irvington, died at Holt Tuesday morning from a stroke of paralysis. She was in her eighty-fifth year.

A Bit of History.

Dear Mr. Babbage: I am sojourning here at present and thought I would give you a short history of this old town. Lafayette is one of the most historic cities of Indiana.

Next the city on the north side of the Wabash river, the fearless Shawnee chief, Tecumseh and his brother, Elakwata, the prophet, sought to establish the confederation of Indiana tribes of the north west to stay the march of civilization.

A mile west is the celebrated battle ground of Tippecanoe when the decisive battle was fought. Wm. Henry Harrison and his brave men, mostly Kentuckians, I think dashed to pieces the red men's hope of ever being able to stay the progress of civilization.

It was my pleasure a few days ago to visit the old battle field and stand on the same spot where Tecumseh fell and see the same Oak trees in which the red men concealed themselves, before the fatal attack of the morning of Nov. 7, 1811. That battle opened the whole North-west territory.

A granite monument, one hundred feet high, costing $25,000, has been erected by the State and Nation to commemorate the memory of the brave men who perished there. On the structure are the names of the officers and soldiers.

But I must tell you everything is lively here, wages are good and plenty of work for everybody who wants to work. I will be here in a few days.

THE PRESIDENT SEEKING A WAY

Something Must Be Done to Save Postal Savings Bill.

SMOOT SEEMS TO HOLD KEY

Adoption of the Utah Senator's Recent Amendment Has Placed a Stumbling Block in the Way of the Bill's Passage Which the Administration Is Now Endeavoring to Remove — The Root Amendment, Which Promised Another Stumbling Block, Has Been Abandoned — At Least the Bill Will Have a Clean Chace.

The situation in the Senate surrounding the postal savings bank bill is said to be still highly involved. It is expected that some very action will be taken by the Senate leaders in the way of committee action on the Root amendment, which was introduced by Senator Smoot, of Utah, and which has been held up in the Senate since the beginning of the session.

It is expected that the Senate will yield to the pressure of the House and ask for the adoption of the Root amendment by written vote, and then adopt the bill.

Senators are reported as directing that it should be voted on in the House. In addition, the House has been told that Senator Smoot was willing to do this. He said that he was willing to defer to the judgment of the president, Senator Root, and the other able senators who were in favor of the bill, and who desired unconditional adoption. If the Senate amendment was allowed to remain in the bill, it would be voted on in the House.

The senator is not a lawyer. He expresses doubt, however, whether the Senate would pass the bill if his amendment were eliminated.

The votes added to the Democrats, who are in control of the Senate, are supposed to give the measure a majority.

It is expected that the bill by a majority of five to eight votes. They will endeavor to reach a vote before the end of the week, and to accomplish that purpose will probably hold late sessions devoted almost entirely to the consideration of the postal savings bill.

Senator Hale will speak in opposition to the Root amendment, who have indicated an intention of blocking the bill are Dooliver of Iowa, of Oklahoma and Heyburn of Idaho.

The votes added to the Republicans, who are in control of the House, are supposed to give the measure a majority.

It is expected that the bill will be voted on in the House.

At the hearing on the bill, Senator Hale will speak in opposition to the Root amendment, who have indicated an intention of blocking the bill are Dooliver of Iowa, of Oklahoma and Heyburn of Idaho.

stating that no further evidence would be taken, but giving no explanation. Committee on Education called the inquiry off as soon as he read the telegram, and the witness were not notified that they need not appear.

One reason for the discontinuance of the hearing, it is said, was the sudden departure of J. Pierpont Morgan for Europe. The departure of Mr. Morgan is declared in several instances to have been sudden, and it is said in those instances that he left the country in order to escape testifying at the inquiry on behalf of the minority stockholders of the United States Telephone company of Ohio and other independent lines into the sale of the lines to J. IT BLOCKS ALL LEGISLATION

County Unit Idea Continues To Disturb the Seniors.

ONE LAW ENACTED IN 38 DAYS

Measure Increasing the Salaries of All
Circuit Judges Now in the Hands of the Governor — Colonel Jack Crain's Unique Plan to Prevent
Men From Carrying Concealed Weapons—Legislative Review.

By J. H. STUART

Frankfort, Ky. (Special) It is impossible to write about the doings of the state legislature any week but one day without saying something about the county unit extension bill. It is in effect it is having a vote of confidence in the old system. In fact the doomsday statuary have amounted to nothing so far because of the opposition of one county unit master, Mr. W. H. Bowmer, of Madisonville, who has been investigating the house and senate committees and has been instrumental in getting the joint committee to call a special session as far as the senate is concerned, but the friends of the bill are still hoping and will take advantage of any opportunity to get the bill to a direct vote of the senate for passage.

The joint committee of the house and senate has been investigating the adjutant general's office has not made a report yet, but one is expected in a few days. The members of the committee decline to tell what they have discovered, but it has leaked out of reliable sources that some very large amounts of money were paid out by the state treasury for the services of soldiers during the night rider disturbances. One instance is cited from Hopkinsville, where the committee discovered that one livery stable owner had been paid over $10,000 for horse and vehicle hire for the use of soldiers.

The committee has reported the bill favorably in that body, and it will probably be voted on in the senate whenever it comes to a vote, but it is very doubtful if the house will even consider the bill any further. The interest bearing warrants are issued so the state's creditors will not have to discount their debt, and no unusual appropriations are made this session, the deficit will disappear in two years, even without a bond issue. However, the legislature is liable to adjourn before the end of the session, and in that case the bill will not be voted on unless some of the leaders on both sides can get together and agree on some measure that will meet with the approval of the senate and house.

"I would make every man who wants to carry a gun pay a license fee to the police commissioners of all those who take out a license to wear a badge on the outside of his coat containing the words, 'I am carrying a gun.' I would have the name of all those who take out a license furnished to the police commissioners of every county and authorize them to arrest any one of them found with a gun and remove his badge on. I think that would settle the thing for no man would want to wear a badge of that sort, nor would he want to take the chance of being arrested for not wearing it if he carried a gun."

The bill which is in effect increases the salaries of all the circuit judges in the state from $3,000 to $4,200 has passed both houses and is now in the governor's hands for approval or disapproval. The constitution prohibits the salary of any official from being raised after he has been elected and determined by the voters of the state. The bill will be framed so as to evade the constitutional inhibition. The bill provides that the regular judges shall act as special judges whenever they have a spare week or month in the year from their regular term, and their own, when a special judge is necessary in that other district. It further provides that the governor shall commission each one as a special judge and for these extra or additional services they shall receive $1,200 a year. It was decided that the increased cost of living had been so great that a circuit judge who travels around his district and pays his own expenses, and that of his family at home, could hardly live on the present salary, and that it was a hard matter to get a first class lawyer to accept or run for the office. It is said that Governor Wilson will approve the bill, but that is further along.

No compromise or agreement has been reached between the house and senate as to what shall be done to the state treasury and pay the deficit of over $1,000,000 that now exists. The house seems wedded to the idea of issuing interest bearing warrants, while the senate thinks the bill is the only proper thing. A special session was called by Governor Bradbury authorized the issue of interest bearing warrants, and in the course of two years they were all taken up and the treasury was on a cash basis once more. In the same time, however, in 1897, and the special session of the legislature called by Governor Bradbury authorized the issue of interest bearing warrants, and in the course of two years they were all taken up and the treasury was on a cash basis once more. In the same time, however, the legislature is liable to adjourn before the end of the session, and in that case the bill will not be voted on unless some of the leaders on both sides can get together and agree on some measure that will meet with the approval of the senate and house.

Colonel Jack Crain, the famous turfman, who is the representative of Mercer county, has a most unique plan to prevent men from carrying pistols. He introduced a bill early in the session which provided that a man who was convicted of the offense of carrying a pistol should be declared insane and confined in an asylum. He has not been successful in his efforts, but the bill has been introduced in each of the two sessions of the legislature, till 38 legislative days of the constitutional 60 had elapsed, and that bill was the one which effected the increase of the salary of all circuit judges to $1,200 a year. This bill would probably have never been introduced if it were not for the power of the people to force through legislation of their own.

Every day or two the committee has voted on the measure and has voted to take up and make a report on it, and then voted to take up the bill again to time suspend the same, and so far the friends of the county unit have never been able to force necessary votes to get the bill enacted. In fact the fight has been so fierce that only one bill has been passed, and that one has not been signed by the governor. The bill, however, is the result of the joint committee's bill, and the 38 legislative days of the constitutional 60 had elapsed, and that bill was the one which effected the increase of the salary of all circuit judges to $1,200 a year. This bill would probably have never been introduced if it were not for the power of the people to force through legislation of their own.

One of the three "good roads" bills that were introduced in the senate by Senator Bowmer has passed that body, though it was bitterly fought by Senator Thomas and several others. The bill passed provides for the establishment, regulation and maintenance of public roads and defining the duties of the state road commission and creating the office of county road engineer in each county. The bill also provides for the creation of a department of good roads in the state government, and provides for a special tax of 5 cents on the $100 to create a road fund to help the counties build good roads.

Those who oppose these roads say that they will result in all sorts of confusion and entanglements and that the additional 5-cent tax will cause the widest dissatisfaction. The friends of the measure, however, say there is no danger of entanglements and trouble, and that the roads will be built at a much less cost than the present ones, and that the only real opposition to the bills come from those counties that already have splendid roads. They further say that these splendid roads in central Kentucky were in many instances built by the county units, and that these commissions are opposed to allowing the poorer counties the same benefits that they themselves had many years ago. Whether the bills will pass the house or not can not be safely foretold yet, but there is no denying the fact that the bill providing for an income tax of 5 cents to 10 cents on the $100 will be unpopular, especially about the time the tax is being collected.

The movement to permit women to vote in state elections seems to have met with flat discouragement in the house, as the bill giving them the right to vote in state elections has been rejected by the committee. The leading women of the state have been here in large numbers from time to time this winter, urging and talking with legislators in the interest of the bill, and for a time it looked as if there was a fine chance to be enacted. The women say the men have had entire control of the schools in this state for years and years, and that the jitter and jitters is due to their management. All they say they want is a chance to try their plan and see if better schools and more educated people will be the result.

The Delicousness of Nonsense.

Sense is the mark of the measles on the unwarmed skin of Time. Nonsense is the blotch of innocence on the unquenchable hope of humanity. Any fool can talk sense, but nonsense is the deepest relaxation of the worthy and the rare. Nonsense is love; sense is merely matrimony. Nonsense is the redeeming spice of a truly cultivated taste, the sugar on the insipid strawberry, the salt in the monotonous egg, the rouge delicious on the cheeks of Circumstance.

You will have noticed that when you tell a man to get sense you merely convey your desire that he shall get to the devil. Bookmakers and politicians have sense; it is commoner than dirt, less inspiring than mud, less stimulating than warm salad. It is the worm in the apple, the fly in the ointment, the mire in the cockpit, deadening pain in the girdle, hell in the heart. It is the most that the most industries and careful lover of himself can never entirely escape. It is like chronic goit in anotherwise sound organism. It is perversity in paradox. It is a ghoul garbed as saint. It is the open drain that poisons Arcady. It is Hell invading Paradise. It is the most obstinate and mischievous delusion of humanity. It is the creeping paralysis that kills wit. It is Psycho with an ulcerated throat.—Frank Morton, in March Smart Set.
